Product Description

A Marmoreal is a decorative surface material, resembling natural marble, crafted by skilled artisans using a combination of natural and synthetic materials. These handcrafted slabs mimic the veining patterns of marble through techniques like layering and swirling pigments. Every design and casting is unique in its form and colour and surely won't replicate our other piece because it is handcrafted. Choose from a selection of 3-4 colors and benefit from design guidance provided by our concrete expert, ensuring a perfect fit for your aesthetic vision.
